Dearest Edward.

We left Paris at 7.55. Last night took the fast Express for Le Havre arriving there at 10.35. We took a taxi from there to the boat. Quite a nice boat Alice & I had a cabin together & John an odd berth - It was quite rough we stayed on deck to see the last of France, twinkling lights & fire works which we pretended were being sent up in fare well to us - We were sorry to leave, we really had a lovely week, with so many varied experiences & every body was ^{so nice} to us - The hotel proprietor ^{in Paris} for our hotel came out to say good bye to us, & smiled & waved his hand as we left — This work ^{in France} may be a little more expensive than some other works, but I think every minute of it was worth while — We all saw & learnt a tremendous lot — We arrived at Southampton this morning at 6.30 & came over to the hotel where we are having a day of rest to recuperate before the next step and to reorganize our luggage — & see if there is mail at the C.P.R. office. etc. to have our hair done etc. — The "South Western" is the first big hotel we have been in & is a change from the french style.

We are now going out to see what we can see.

I suppose you will be in church this morning, I always run where to think of you on Sunday — with love from
Lis darling
