

Wallace gallery is full of wonderful things - no doubt - Mr. J. painted out some especially beautiful greens - The girl with the apple, I like best - also there is there an amazing head of an old woman by Rembrandt & some charming Romney's & portraits of that era - I am always sorry that Van Dyke had so much armour & so many possessions to paint; if he had had the strong type that painted he could have had so much greater fame -

I do hope you saw the Tail-gallery - It is built where the old Bishop's prison used to stand, the Marshfield - If you want to know about it read as soon as possible Little Dorrit by Dickens - but you get back to St. L. - do read all you can about what you have seen - Have you got Notre Dame yet by Victor Hugo - Get these books anywhere for 6d.

I may send you your little gun metal watch. I had it & Eva's merchantly 2 that Swedish watch makes Eva reports hers going all right ever since & yours I have had on my table & beyond gaining a trifle it is excellent. If I enclose a little silver (plated) spoon it is for you to try & match it was bought in England & it annoys me that I is lost - Don't take trouble about this but if in, or near, a large silver shop in London or L'pool just ask if they have it & if so buy ~~one~~ & then surely the dozen will be secure, nabe there are so children

If you have a chance or sh^d have any one with you, do try to see beyond our line from L'pool to London passes through it: though you c^d only glance at it - in one day - I'm sure you see the monument - to Shelley I can't remember which way it is in -

Those Daywood, or Day words, penny guides are splendid & can be had at any R.R.
book stall.

I hope that aunt E - has arranged about the passage for you. Mrs Thompson the Chinese missionary is going over to his sons marriage & returns on Allan Line Dou-sin which leaves - the last day of August - or 1st of Sept that is one of the cheaper boats -

you will get any paint brushes or paints you may need - they are so much cheaper than here. There is an excellent - Art - shop in St. Paul though London may be better Windsor & Newton. Best - maker

I am rejoicing myself with the thought that you are back at Aunt - Glais - I hope you will take a long quiet time with aunt Glais & help her with Margaret all you can - I did not think her school was over
