

unwilling - It will be certainly about you, it is not a journey you can undertake without trouble & anxiety to her. I cannot imagine how you are to do it without sleeping a night on the train, or at some stopping place neither of these things is suitable for a young girl, alone. I wd not have allowed it - except for some serious cause. you cannot do in England what we do here. Now tho I can't help you to undo this & I hope it may fall true out better than I fear. Aunt G. must have been very married about it; & you sh^d always give up any plan that yr. mother seems the least doubtful about. Now do your best to attend to Aunt G. I sh^d hate her to feel that she had added trouble by visiting you, & she sorely needs a friend, & had succeeded your being her comfort & support - especially with Margaret.

Do your best - dearest. I am sure you are very sweet & good to her, but now you have seen more than you could in any way have hoped for. & let her content to be quiet. Did you receive An P.O. order & the watch? & let us know how the Silvia idea seems to you? also do send Helen & Ed & Wm some nice B.C.s that will share some of your rights with them & be a little help & education - I cannot
