Dear Mrs. Winslow-Spragge:

It was good to lunch with you today at the Faculty Club. I must confess to complete illiteracy in this matter of jewelry but Peter Eakin's idea for it certainly intrigued me, and I do hope it will give you pleasure.

Professor J.F. Snell fixed Sir William Macdonald's date of death as 9 June 1917.

Sincere and best wishes for a pleasant holiday season.

Cordially yours,

Dear Mrs. Winifred Gillingham:

It was good to lunch with you today at the Faculty Club.
I must confess to complete ignorance in the matter of jewelry.
but Peter Eskin's idea for it certainly intrigued me, and I do hope it will give you pleasure.

Professor J.E. Small fixed Sir William Macdonald's date of death as 9 June 1877.
Glad to hear you had a pleasant holiday season.

Cordially yours,

John Anderson
