

Thank W.
for his nice letter Silvia to Lanes to know at 9 a.m.

" 295 " Aug 16th

Miss Robinson
death

Acc. 124

Kais & Eva

Saw well you like being made into a Co - but even here time does not seem to wait even for me - Silvia arrived all right about 9^o - looking very blooming, & after we had broken our fast - we set led forth to do our shopping We got the shoes & gloves without much effort but though 3 blouse sales were on they were literally the sells & ends of the season mostly about 40 in size & composed of trimmings - Finally we got a pair for just $1.50. Not even linen but plain tucked & with a stiff collar.

now the packing is nearly done & I is going to the Hohls to say good byes & regrets.

H.G. has finally planned that Silvia is to stay here on her return till the 1st when she will take her over till she can see her safely off with Mrs Mc Donald. Then I
meanwhile departing to the West. This will add another very pleasant experience to Silvia's stay & it will be satisfactory.

I was very sorry about the party & you did your best. & I am sure you will not regret giving up anything - you will surely have as good a like Mrs Mto maud - she really was unique - her bright eyes, her big heart, her perfect breeding - let alone all the substantial benefits she has been tuned to bestow upon us - most of the things that could have come from her. Clara Ruth Lais & H. G. have each had 8 hours as you know - & hardly marked father again & again had delightful trips from her kind thought, & other things, before your day. which we will talk over when we meet again.

Edward did look well when he returned here - he evidently did not refuse - He had dinner with us on Sunday - aiding us in dis-passing of a nice little leg of lamb I think Core. intended to make a break for miles this week & I only wish he could get more than 3 days.

but that is better than ⁴ nothing I saw Mrs Law yesterday & missed seeing Annie Laforet, by a stupid mistake - perhaps you do not know she is the cook I am trying to get for G. H.

I got the bill from Allen, & sent him a cheque - wh. I hope he received. The party seems to have been a huge success - what a delightful idea for the girls to line up behind a sheet - I chaste the girls by their hands - I imagine the most of the boys never had an idea that hands were so different before - I think I c. off just out-halt of my little girls by their hands! they are so very unusual. we shall say characteristic =

Edward thinks you will never want to go back to the Cottage you will find it too quiet.
But if we have Kettle & Ted & Co - & Con. & hired, it will make quite a change.

Bernard writes very cheerfully - It certainly was very nice of him to send me cash. I never thought of such a thing, but as I had two chatty letters letters just sent them on to save repetition, I give him a share in the old atmosphere.

I did wish that Will could have gone up to the Lake he has never been there, & I know has felt left out - he seems happy & now the mountain can be used - he will have something to fall back upon - If I knew any one who wd lend him a gun he wd experiment with that I wd willingly get him cartridges - Of course a little later wd be better when people begin to leave

Mrs Genter must be a great addition to the hotel I am glad to have even go to G. Mrs - for my eye sight is getting bad - It wd have been all right if I wd have got the $29.44 money - but they seem to push on than before & Mr Flint's trouble is now in the way - I begin to fear their old bills they have been so long - I only got my suit a few days ago & went 5 or 6 times already & sent it back & every time he had forgotten ahead. The fault the blame is very common, & all cut - & 200 fit

I wish I could go up & sit in Mrs M.'s garden - but I don't like to. I don't know what is going on there - or who is going & directions. I suppose will all be pulled to pieces she told me herself all the books were to go to Mrs Gill - & I hate to think of that Cremation it seems so ruthless & so like renouncing and giving up all traces of a beloved life. but should not mind ~~about the things~~ ~~which~~ that has been done.

I have not seen the Barkness baby, the doctor is very cautious - & paid papa to prevent to let any one peek too soon - & a very good thing too - The baby is good & fat & does not cry much - & the mother is doing very well Love dears much for you both, from Mother

I don't think it looks bad but the shirt makes us look like a tub draped scantily - not because of quantity, but the cloth quality - the coat is not badly shaped but he has had to put buckram in it till it can be worn in really cold weather when the shirt - w^d be impossible - I cannot be put on in hot - If he has furnished the stuff - I w^d simply refuse to take it & keep my $25.00 - but as long as Ruth does not cry all over it - I don't mind him but - I fear she will.

We must try & get some new good fur, these Mup Grys - are well spoken & far good & reasonable work - their name is in the telephone book - Bruce Arthur Trust -
