Mother
 & Son

how he sees an and I can get to feel fairly he is all right - I think you grow prettier every day - I want to be a hand some couple at the wedding make he could see a sweater have before you can be back - or over after.

I don't wonder you are torn between facing West or East when it comes to Edward buying a whole housefull of furniture! in your absence - of course he can put it in our house if he likes - I wd not be at all surprised if he turned up here tomorrow & in that case he will tell me all about it & I intend to be in town next week en route to Melis & will try & arrange with him I only hope that his friend had a taste that coincides with yours - if the armchairs are good - the covers cd be easily changed - & padded oak sounds nicely - I hav. an extainly sounds little things the cost of bringing to town & cartage will be considerable

I am very glad to hear from Kath, that she is trying to slope as long as possible in the mountains - & at the Coast & not rush to every place This is most-wise - & will be very much better for you as well as for her - Do remember not to bathe too much. I can see here how it takes it out of the girls - It is not at all like the sea - The next month will soon pass & try to take it quietly & thankfully - & let it rest you for all you will have to do when you return To see those wonderful Rockies will give you cause to close your eyes & see far the rest of your life.

Miss Chapman (late of Miss Edgar's) is here with her big boxes & is going to Calgary for fall & I suppose she will go with her he officiated at the little church here - his sermon had quite a good idea in it - but he evidently was new at the work he & Miss C. were nearly drowned last night - It was a cold & squally evening - & yet they went out in a tuffy canoe - The Ferryman - heard cries - & then saw something floating, the cushions from the canoe - & of course made for the cries & picked the tub up - home to soon, they said they were clinging to the canoe & out in the middle of this wide river =

Eva's address - is % Dr Brewster -
Gordon Bay
Lake Joseph

Eva found the journey long a large motor boat - took them up the lake - & the house was full of guests - chiefly doctors she said = She saw Merritt in town, who looked very well - the great heat is over in fact - tonight - it is really cold These sudden changes in needs to follow with sudden additions of clothing - after wearing next to nothing for 3 weeks - I have on cashmere stockings & a warm skirt & my silk coat

Had a lovely long walk this a. m. - I saw so many pretty flowers, & butterflies, & ragged flying clouds - with glams of sun - nothing is so terrible as chattering - & I avoid it - all I can. Only the people here are so kind I can't quite turn my back on them.

I am sorry I have not managed to get over to Oka - but it was too hot - while Eva was here & no one else seems to want to go - I find Herbert Malson a very nice boy, & it is a pity that did not give him a little more education, he seems so interested in all sorts of historical things.

How do make or take, some quiet-hours for your dear little self - I don't try to see too much when you are 'out-west' - You have your ticket to Seattle, so if Kulh goes there you can have what is said to be the lowest-sail in the world - Clare saw little of it - on account of bush fires.

Will has passed all his exams - with only 40. but I am so rejoiced that I shall never have to think of the hateful thing again -

History & Geog. 65 - Eng. Comp. - 43
Eng. Lit. 45 +

It is quite late & I must get to my nice comfy-bed, in my big double room - Much love my dear chicken - & try & be happy - & thank you Edward looked very well when he was here
