Dearest Will

I was glad to get your P.C. you seem so far away at Melis, but then it always does seem as if you must be happy there - & now you are 14 you ought to be quite old enough to be able to really help & make the others comfortable - Do you know Clara was only 13 when she went down to Melis in charge of the whole family that was because we had to leave our old home - & a new baby had arrived (your noble self) - & she was only 15 when I was away a whole summer & the <sup>main</sup> ~~only~~ difference between children of the same age & what they can do or can't is if they have practiced doing right, & being unselfish - or not. Every fellow can do that. I am glad the queer little letters suit you. I will send you more later on -

Lulu Milhan came to see us a few days ago, she was here visiting a friend. she quite cheered father up. Perhaps she is going out to the Coast. you heard did you not that Dr. Lefleur missed his train Thursday. just as well, for

Engine got off the track & the 11.30 train did not get in till 6.0.
He is to come tomorrow.

Warr 9. m. is not out of the hospital yet, but I hope Ruth will get down to you next week.

There is to be a great afternoon tea here on Monday, the opening of the Golf Club - & the piano is to be out on the gallery, & the piano will sound & the fiddles tuning & the waltz ring - & the tea party.

Mr. Baunter has a boy's camp about 25 miles from here - I saw a fellow who was going - he said it was great - I believe that Jacomb is going to have one also this year - I sh<sup>d</sup> like his best - but I don't think he is so fierce -

Father is anxious to know if the seeds have come up - & to be sure & water the seed peas - B. G. has peas 4 inches high at his shack - Do write a long gas-den letter, also about the peas.
We have not heard a word about your exams - yet - They do take a long time?

You will be just as good as you know how old man - & be nice to the girls I hope you lock up each night Love to all three - from Mother.
