Will at St Agatha

Dearest Will,

Your little room seemed very empty this morning - but I was glad to remember the happy smile I saw on your face as you got into the sleigh -

I know you have had a hard time lately, for a big boy with nothing to do can not be very happy.
God made, strength for work, & work for strength & a man who willingly is idle, is a wretched being you, & not help being out of order - but you will do your best to get right - I am sure -

Be out of doors every minute you can - & work all you can - tramp if you can't work - or slide or ski - this is your duty, old man, & not-very-unlike pleasure is it? Also remember most of the people at the Inn have gone there for health & rest - & do your best to add to the fun, or help the games - I am sure you wd like the music, they have so often in the evenings - & make yourself read a little when you can - Clinic shd be finished soon - ='

For my sake too read your Bible. It is spirit & life, & we want lots of both! Try mark, read some every day, you will find it more interesting in my little volume =

They used to have fine eggs at the Inn - & I wd recommend two Eggs for your breakfast - poached shailed or with Bacon - they are better than meat Some of the breakfast foods are good to - & Golly the toast

These are advices, & instructions, & I wd like you to read them over two or three times carefully, & then you have them in your mind for use.

Ask Dr Kemp anything you want to know
you a little shortly, he has been ill, & suffered much for many years, yet see how he has worked, & how he manages the Inn - Help him all you can. He is your good friend - & he used to be your doctor at Metis, when you were a delicate little boy, so he knows you very well.

Much love dear, dear boy - We hope before long you will be strong & well as any one &
the flower of the flock Much much love.
many thoughts & prayers always for you mother
