

early building of homes on flat bare lands

Dearest Will -

Sunday

Windy

It is like a hot summer day here. Nearly 80° I went for a little walk with Ted out into the wild land where bare grassy spaces & thickets of small bush & young trees, alternate - the city roads just run out into this & beyond you see a house here & there just put down where a street is to be - & sometimes tiny little one roomed houses - the people in these wretched houses, just walk out the great wide grassy plain - & across it till they meet a street end, or maybe a street car running cheerfully through scrub, on to the heart of the big handsome busy city - which looks quite as beautiful, & finished as Montreal - Eaton has a big huge block as large as Paris with the new part. The Hudson Bay stores are another big store - the P.O. - a fine building of Banks & print stores - Henry Birks has just moved

into a fine new store,
& the streets are beautifully
kept.

Ruth is feeling much better, & I hope next week will find her able to sit up. She has two pillows now, & is quite interested in her dinner. I suffer.

The Chaffey children next
door are very amusing.
I must tell you about
them some time - I was sorry to hear that friend McHaley had been ill.
He sh^d have had a holiday,
& you must let me know
how - Mackay St. goes
on - I can't remember
the name - It will of course take you a little time to get settled in &
to make a fresh start
but you now understand how to face new
departures, & tackle the difficulties that attend
doing this.
We need faith &
courage at every step.

of Banks & print-stores -
Henry Birks has just moved
into a fine new store,
& the streets are beautifully
kept.

Ruth is feeling much
better, & I hope next week
will find her able to sit
up. She has two pillboxes
now, & is quite interested
in her ailments. I suffer.

The Chaffey children next
door are very amusing.
I must tell you about
them some time - I was
sorry to hear that friend
McNealy had been ill.
He sh^d have had a holiday
& you must let me know
how Mackay St. goes
on - I can't remember
the name - It will of
course take you a little
time to get settled in &
to make a fresh start
but you now under-
stand how to face new
departures, & tackle the
difficulties that attend
doing this.

We need faith &
courage at every step.

way - because took little Linn Harris out to the country for a day & he was just - crazy with pleasure - he is a boy that is really trying to do right he said he heard a story at a meeting that made him see everything differently -

& Courage & strength in plenty for us all, when we ask! I have a famous book for you which I am reading with great pleasure myself.

Full of good friends
& comrades -

Much love from
Mother

