Dear friend

Your greatly pleased us, as giving good accounts of you, all and holding out the hope of our seeing you here en famille in the spring, besides the prospect of sharing in the delight in store for your men of science by the new disclosures you intend to make.

Your son, whose coming may be looked for in 14 days, will have a hearty welcome, tho' I cannot tell yet what plan will suit him as to lodgings. I have only fixed on quarters where he can make a few days' trial for himself; but possibly Dr. Bigsby has planned it all. I find he is out of Town, and to my note of inquiry there is no answer yet.

I am alone, my dear wife having been called away suddenly to attend our daughter, who is very low with fever and bronchitis; but we hope good treatment and nursing will soon bring her round again, please God.

Our boy is, you know, in N. York doing well in business; but how much we should prefer having him in London as we had hoped. His mother feels it very much; tho' we get very good and frequent accounts from him and of him.

You probably know that I have been getting out a new (much improved) Ed. of Gesen. H. Gram. which is just out. The Publishers (Jeros) mean to send a copy to D. De Sola; and you will please accept one from ^{me} yourself. I am also hard at work on a Student's Heb. Lesson: So I am not idle, tho' not in strong health. When you come, I may be able to show you some of the printed sheets at least. Our kind regards to all your dear family. Believe me very affectly yours.

Benj. Dares.
