Dear Sir,

Knowing how warm a friend you are of the Association cause, I send you a copy of the first number of our new Monthly asking for it your kindly criticism We are anxious to secure for its columns the productions of the best talent in the Church & country. The constituency we aim to reach is composed of the 90,000 young men in our Associations. For them we feel sure any of our best writers will be willing to write. The first two numbers (that for February will be out next week) testify to the interest many eminent writers have already manifested in the success of this periodical. In starting we were obliged to depend chiefly on those in and about New York, to whom we could make appeal in person, but it is our hope & purpose to have on the list of contributors able writers from all sections of the country, the leading object of their letter is to ask you for a contribution to our columns on some theme of living interest to young men in our associations.

We expect to pay contributors, knowing that that is the best & fairest basis on which to start a paper which we ~~hope~~ expect to be permanently successful. The length of articles contributed is desired to be about three quarters of a page - nearly a thousand letters. For such articles the price is $15.00. We give release letters hear from you at your earliest convenience concerning this matter I greatly oblige your gratefully
