My dear Sir,

I shall be very glad to examine and name, so far as I am able, the collection of Ostracoda to which you refer in your letter of the 4th inst.

They may be sent to me at any time. It is possible, however, that I may be leaving home (for a week only) on Friday. Still that need not interfere with your sending the things.

I have the pleasure of sending to you herewith a few papers chiefly respecting Ostracoda which may be interesting to you. - I do not know whether you may already process (in the Transactions of the Linnæan Society) my "Monographs of the Recent British Ostracoda", but if not I should be glad to send you a copy.

I wonder if you are able to get hold of any of the mud or silt from the recent United States deep sea dredging. I should greatly prize some if I could get it -

Believe me, dear Sir

Yours very truly

George S. Brady.
