Toronto, Nov. 28th 1890

My dear Mr Dawson

I see that you have kindly undertaken to lecture for the Toronto Y. M. C. Association on the 23^d Dec. I trust you will give us the pleasure of your company while here.

Mr Wilson begs me to add a hope that Mr Dawson will accompany you; and should Miss Dawson also be tempted to take a peep at our Canadian lions, we have room and to spare, to give a welcome to both.

If you have received the card of our lectures you will be cognizant of a jest innocently perpetrated on me.

Our secretary put me down for a lecture, almost without asking; - wrote at the very last for its title, when I was overhead of ear in work. So I replied put down nothing at present; and he duly printed "Dr Wilson. Subject Nothing"

Mr Wilkie is a most excellent young man; but incapable of a joke; so I should have thought he did it purposely as such.

I have been wondering whether, after all, something could not be made out of Nothing.

In haste

Yours faithfully

Dan. Wilson

but it has been

could not be made out
of nothing.
