Prof. J. W. Dawson,

Dear Sir;

Yours of the 16th was received last week; and I ought to have answered it ere this time. I fear that the little pieces which I enclosed, gave but a poor idea of the material in question; for acidu-lated specimens in the hands of one of our Lyceum members here, show the organic character very plainly. I will have more specimens treated with acid, and will advise you further if anything interesting is brought to light.

Please find enclosed one of our College circulars. Some advancements and additions have been made since the issue of this announcement, by our new head, Dr. Jamison, who is a most earnest believer in the advanced education of women. I am sorry that this circular does not give a fuller idea of the course of studies pursued. When we publish our next catalogue, which I hope will be soon, it will give me pleasure to send you a copy. May I ask also for a circular or catalogue of McGill College? Very resp^y yours
D. S. Martin
