My dear Sir,

Yours of Dec
8th came duly to hand and I am quite pleased with the arrangements proposed, as I desireing consideration of publication in a vol.

With respect to
"Pamphlet Man" I have been thinking of it and so soon as

My lectures course at Christmas shall try to put something into shape and send it for your criticism. It will work in well enough with the lectures I
mentioned to you,
one of which has been on the
"Physical Conditions

of Science; but will require much thought and care, as what with "Antiquity" and
"Evolution" and preparing manuscripts concerning the Scriptural account, the subject is in an important way. How must it do to treat it in this way:— (1) Evolution and its difficulties as applied to man. (2)
What we know from Science as to Primates

man and the ~~condition~~ of his organ and early existence. (3) Was this account with several ~~facts~~ notes and the two beliefs of men in general, to show a account with by the
of account.

Please give my kind regards to the Butler in his letter and tell me how you find
