New York, Jan'y. 19, 1872.

Dear Sir:

I duly received your favor of 22^d.
I meant and intended a prompt response.
Delay has been however for various good reasons
almost unavoidable, and I trust will be kindly excused.

I beg now to thank you for your commendation, and also for the printed paper which you sent me. I shall take the liberty of making some use of the paper relating to your personal history in my book of records.

Very resp'y yours,
