

P.S. There is no paste ~~about~~ about your article we have gone slowly ^{with approval} of copy - but if it is entirely ready here perhaps you had better send it pretty soon - with your estimate to etc. - we should submit your copy to the press

London. July 11 '72
(1117 Grand St)

My dear Sir

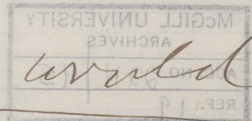

Yours of

July 1, is received - I am delighted to inquire of publisher - We expect to illustrate

but not propose
with a few good pictures - and these the point.

If you would

L. W. Dawson Esq. R.S.

Thomas
~~James~~

July
22

[The main body of the page contains several lines of extremely faint, illegible handwriting, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher.]