

State Geologist's Office,

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 26 1876.

Dear Sir!

Please accept my thanks for the copy of your essay on the Dawn of life, you have sent me. I read it attentively, but must confess myself not yet converted to your opinions.

My report on the lower Peninsula of Michigan is almost ready for the printer, the plates are already printed.

I have not as you expect given any description of Stromatopora but confined myself to the description of corals in this volume.

I will send you with pleasure a copy of the report as soon as it is printed.

Respectfully Yours

C. Rominger.
