My dear Sir William,

Answering your note of yesterday I may say that the article in question was written by our old friend and valued contributor Mr. John Reade. His address is 270 Laval Avenue. He has been on the "Gazette" regularly for over twenty years, during which time he has done a great deal of good work, none of which has been read <sup>by</sup> with more pleasure than the very interesting article referred to <sup>me</sup> by you in your note now before me. I am glad the article gave you pleasure I am sure it did to the great majority of our readers.
