Dear Sir,

Since your visit I have looked over carefully the contents of the box which you left in my care and was rewarded by finding several fragments of reptile bones and skin all of which I have carefully put aside for you I also found in a strip near the paper box some fish remains which may be valuable, but a good deal of digging in the banks gave me only a few small fragments of paper shells. Much better any success down with that fortune has however attended stamp and may get another a search in the new stamp near Corvallis. I have not yet had the old Missions which from which time to attend to the stamps I have got several good specimens in the after bed but hope remains of paper and I think to get them out before long. a very fine Corvallis which I please direct me with regard to my great disappointment to the fossils now on hand far out to the window while I am anxiously looking for I was attempting to develop at the Geological Survey Report a little. I had the end view but presume that Mr. Sturges of it which was sent to Baxter has not yet returned and now distinctly situated I am sure Sir than paper. I have not by very faithfully yours
