

International Review,

111 WILLIAM STREET.

New York, July 31st 1876

Dear Mr. Dewey.

James M. Clary & Co. of Chicago, have sent you, at our request, a copy of Jordan's Monocle of Vertebrates, for which we are all greatly pleased to have you notice for a future number of this Review.

Are there any other recent books which you would care to notice? If so, we shall be pleased to add them to you.

Very sincerely,
Yours with esteem

The Editors

Faint handwritten notes or signatures on the right side of the page.

