Dr. Sir,

I left all things ready in workroom on Friday eve

On examining ^(with Mr. Hamilton) the painted book-case in room over office, which I thought might stand back to back with yr. cupboard, it appeared that the shelves with heavy glass top are all fitted to rest on it. So great a bother moving, & making fresh strong props, that I think it wd be cheaper to rig say 3 boards or brackets against the back of yr cupboard, for working books. The occasional books may lie upstairs.

After the very severe poisoning

I got last summer (which almost took away my power to keep school, & has left a very serious failure of voice as well as other powers) I have made a solemn resolution never to work a whole day up there, even in summer, with window permanently open, & daily sprinkling of carb. ac. which was the condition of things last month.

Yrs faith -
H

H Dawson
