

McGill College. Dec 5, 1876

I hereby commend my dear friend Miss E. Logan to the Christian regards of all who know me; and to state that I shall hold myself in readiness to render at any time, to the extent of my ability,
any aid that she may require in the prosecution of her work, or through any accident that may befall.

J. W. Dawson

Address — Principal Dawson, McGill College, Montreal.

Copy to King Lear
Dec 17/66
J

Dec 21/1876

I have been very busy to write your letter this morning to the children's papers in all the towns and out to state that of their purpose in writing to them at any time, to the extent of my ability,
and will that the papers in the
of the world, or through any accident that may
before.
I am
Yours truly,
J. M. [unclear]