Since the trouble with your bath has arisen from its not being stayed, I have made arrangements to have it done, it should not leak if pipe from it was clear, even if it had no putty or joint, as it has a long slip, I think there must have been a temporary choke, I think when I get it fastened well, that it will last for a long time without giving you trouble, I noticed enamel off the bottom in spots, this has hardly occurred from ordinary wear & tear

After the trouble with your boat has been settled, I have made arrangements to have it done. It should not cost you more than $100.00, even if it has to be done in your shop. I think there must have been a temporary change that when you get your boat back for a day time without paying nothing, I have covered off the bottom in order that the boat should be well there
