Pt Stanley March 7th 77

Dear Sir,

I have read with much interest your lectures on "The Bible and Science", and having been drawn into a newspaper discussion of the "Hypothesis of Evolution" provoked by an admirer of Huxley, who was getting rather the better of a certain Divine (Creationist) in this neighborhood when I took the matter up, I enclose a passage from Evolutionists (my opponents) latest production which will explain itself.

I might evade a direct answer but I would rather not and appeal to you for assistance if you will be so kind as to render it: I have a large practice to attend to and have not time to investigate thoroughly enough.

I wish likewise you to name a few of the most eminent-scientists-of the present-day who do not accept-the theory of evolution And if Prof. Marsh's discovery of the Eohippus <sup>Quincy</sup> Eocene deposits in the west is of so much importance as is attached to it by evolutionists (see Scientific American for November 76)

An early reply for which I find enclosed an addressed and prepaid envelope will greatly oblige yours very truly
