

Springfield Nov. 14, 1877.

My dear Sir:

The article which you suggest would exactly suit.
Please remember that the limited space at our disposal renders it necessary that our articles should be brief - 5000 or 6000 words would be sufficient -

I am sorry that the announcement of your name somewhat anticipated your definite acceptance of our proposition; but your name was transferred, certainly from ~~an~~ provisional list, and got into type sooner than I meant to have it.

Since we are so happy as to have your acceptance as shown in done; but I beg you to believe that we mean to deal fairly with all our contributors.

Very truly yours

Washington Gladden.
