Mr Dawson

Dear Sir,

I trust you will pardon me, if you think I take liberty in addressing you. But I have just finished your very interesting work, the "Vices of the World." I feel constrained to thank you for the pleasure & instruction it has given me, & above all for the summing up of the last few pages.

It is so good to see a thorough Scientist - an earnest & devout Christian - indicating 'high noon' of God's great Sabbath! These earnest searches for truth, must all converge in Him, who is the Truth - & it can

That I have not been able to get any further clear definite ideas upon the subject - is there any chance that will give me the latest in Yield conclusions in this branch of Science - ?

Will you see Secoin a pamphlet upon the "Reminiscences" of water upon the earth's surface?
Hoping you will forgive me if I had passed before upon your valuable time - as I think you will have charity for patience with my ignorance

Yours sincerely
Egbert D. S. Hunt

But be a most grateful & refreshing taste, to be in the van - approaching ⁱⁿ the converging lines of light - clearing away the rubbish - the clouds of error that have so long obscured the Light -

Oh what a surpassing joy it is to grow in the knowledge & love of God & of His own great Church -

If it is not asking too much, will you be kind enough to tell me when you make no mention of the Hamite, a Hungarian language? & also what estimate you put upon Mr Baldwin's book, See his - toric nations? Different authors present the conclusions of philology in ~~the~~ each different Phonology
