My dear Mr Dawson

I have been unable to write this morning to let you know positively that Chief Justice Wray would be here.
He has been hurriedly kept in uncertainty & on the occurrence of the accident to Lady Kendal he wanted to put off his visit However I persuaded him to come & I wrote to him to try his academic costume. I presumed that he would come before me at 2.30 to the library. Mr Brydges and I were talking yesterday about tickets for the Ladies. I am not sure whether Lady Kendal will be well enough to go but hope so in which case we shall be a large party, as both her daughters & niece are there and I think Mr Pearsall would like to go as she stands for to Mr Dawson.

The bank. Perhaps you can do more to loan what C. I. needs, and also as to what can be done for the London.

Yours truly

Richard
