

Princeton Review.

47 Park Avenue,

Oct. 30. 78.

Dear Dr. Dawson

The article upon ^{the} "rights & duties of science" which I have been had the honor of receiving from you has been published in the November number.

I have great pleasure in enclosing check upon Chemical Bank of this city for $250.

The orders for this issue in advance of publication have reached several thousand, independently of our large and rapidly increasing list of subscribers.

I earnestly desire to present in this Review, a summary of all that is most valuable in every department of current thought, and trust that you will permit me to count upon your most valued assistance
during the coming year

With the kindest regards

I am, Yours all,
Libbey

The extra sheets of your article and some extra numbers, will reach you in due season
Yours
