

McGILL UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES
ACC. NO. 2211/66
REF. 45

OFFICE OF

The Canadian Illustrated News,

Montreal, 27th March, 1879

Mr. Ranupal Darnall M.D.

DEAR SIR :

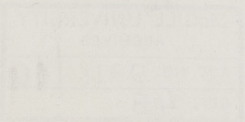

In view of the fact that the "CANADIAN ILLUSTRATED NEWS" has always been and is still intended to be a National undertaking, affording a pictorial record of the current events of the Country and, as such, appeals to all classes of readers throughout the Dominion, without distinction of race, creed, or politics, and considering that to insure its success it requires the support and encouragement of the best literary talent of the Country, in different spheres of literary activity, we address ourselves to you with the request that you would allow the use of your name to appear on our list of occasional contributors. Any articles that you would write suitable to our columns would appear over your signature and would meet with remuneration. In view of the stringency of the times, this remuneration could not be large, but it would be certain, including a year's subscription to the paper in part payment. Our intention in making this appeal to our chief literary men is to enlist their sympathies in our publication. Their co-operation would go far to assist us in building up the paper to that point where it would be enabled to give more encouragement to literary men who would thereby contribute a share to the maintenance and progress of the only literary illustrated journal published in the Dominion.

Awaiting your reply before completing improvements now in contemplation,

I am yours truly,

G. B. BURLAND,

MANAGER.

Office of

The Dominion Illustrated

Montreal, 27th March, 1879

Dear Sir,

Burland
March 27/79

In view of the fact that the "CANADIAN ILLUSTRATED NEWS" has always been and is still intended to be a National undertaking, affording a pictorial record of the current events of the Country and as such appeals to all classes of readers throughout the Dominion without distinction of race, creed, or politics, and considering the importance of the work in the present state of the Dominion, we address literary talent of the Country in different spheres of literary activity, we address ourselves to you with the request that you would allow the use of your name to appear in our list of occasional contributors. Any articles that you would write suitable to the columns would appear over your signature and would meet with our approval. In view of the stringency of the times, this remuneration could not be paid but it would be certain including a year's subscription to the paper in part payment. Our intention in making this appeal to our chief literary men is to enlist their sympathies in our publication. Their co-operation would go far to assist us in building up the paper to that point where it would be enabled to give more encouragement to literary men who would thereby contribute a share to the maintenance and progress of the only literary illustrated journal published in the Dominion. Awaiting your reply before completing improvements now in contemplation.

I am yours truly,

G. E. BURLAND,

MANAGER.