Dear Sir

Some time ago when writing to you for a letter of recommendation I said that I intended to study law in New York. Since then I have changed my mind and have settled here with the same intention and my circumstances being the same as before, that is to say that I must support myself while pursuing my studies, as a letter of introduction from ^{one of the Professors} of the University or others with whom you may be acquainted might be of service to me. I should be greatly much obliged if you would find time to send me such letters of introduction.

Sincerely yours

Principal Dawson F.R.S. D.C. Ross
