Sir,

I beg to apologise for introducing myself to your notice, for the purpose of asking you a favour.

I am wishing to obtain employment as a Copyist for Authors or others, or Law-copying; & it has occurred to me that possibly you might require help in this way, or know of others who are likely to do so.

I have been accustomed to copy in a round as well as a running hand, & have copied difficult

MSS., Charters, etc.

I was well known to the late Canon Ashwell, who gave me
work of the kind to do.

Probably there are Authors whose labours lie within the sphere of literary or scientific research,
requiring notes to be transcribed
from books at the British Museum,
if I could meet with such I would willingly undertake it, &
could go to London at any time,
if required to do so for the purpose
of copying.

If you can kindly assist me in finding work I shall feel grateful.

I am Sir,

Yours Obediently.

M. A. Batchelor.
