Dear Doctor

I would have written much sooner but I hoped to be able to send you a printed account of our New Year's festival. I am however unable to do so as the M.S. was lost in the printing office. I sent a short account to the C.P. but the Ed. rejected it. Raikes was the subject of the imitation statue.
Unfinished oil paintings of Knox and Argyll were exhibited. The first is for the Montreal Pub. College. The second for Lucerne. Some very creditable pieces of carving were exhibited.
The print paid me a New Year's visit.

My mother was able to do a little baking for New Year.

Last night week she took very ill. I sent for the doctor. He did not come but he sent some medicine. Three lady friends sat up all night. Next morning I again sent for the doctor. He came down and left some more medicine.

She is now quite well except suffering from rheumatism.

We are moving in the matter of a new church. At a meeting last Monday evg it was decided to purchase from Mr Ferguson a piece of about 6 acres adjoining the ellance. Since then an app of a building lot has been about half way between the ellance and Mr Figueras has been made. Now -er I have no doubt that for various reasons Mr Figueras ground agreed to will be taken The question will be settled next Friday.

I hope to be able in long to send Mr Dawson a few rough elevations and ground plans to enable him to form an idea of what sort of a building we would like - leaving it to him to modify them as he may judge necessary.

But here I must pause.
My mother and I write in kindest regards to you all.
Please tell Mr Dawson that my mother makes my fre-quent use of her present.
yours
T. Fenwick
