March 14/81

My dear Mr. Ryan,

All that occurs
to me this morning in connection with our interview of yesterday is to say that it might be well to remind Sir John that if Mr. Napier's pledge is really to be fulfilled no time should be lost in giving directions to stay the demolition of

the Museum. Here, which I fear has proceeded
very rapidly even within the past few days.
