Debrett's PEERAGE, BARONETAGE, KNIGHTAGE, AND TITLES OF COURTESY. [For Specimens of Contents see separate Pamphlet herewith.]

168th YEAR OF PUBLICATION.

GREATLY AMPLIFIED.

CONTAINS 1500 ENGRAVINGS OF ARMS.

Edited by Robert H. Mair, LL.D.

EARL CAIRNS, when Lord Chancellor, thus referred to "DEBRETT" in the House of Lords, on April 3rd, 1876:—

"A Depository of Information which I never open without amazement and admiration."

DEBRETT, the oldest, most reliable, best patronized, and most practical Work of its kind, owes its popularity to the fact that, in the aggregate, it furnishes ten times more information respecting living members of the Nobility and the Collateral Branches of Peers and Baronets than all other kindred books combined.

The details it furnishes are collated from all parts of the world at a great cost, and no expense is otherwise spared to obtain correctness.

The arrangement is unique, and entirely obviates the necessity for reference to various sections; as, under the heading of each title full particulars appear respecting all living persons who are nearly related to the Peer or Baronet. (For Specimens of Contents see separate pamphlet herewith.)

IT IS THE ONLY VOLUME THAT ATTEMPTS TO SUPPLY:—1.—Full particulars of the Services of Peers, Baronets, Privy Councillors and Knights. 2.—Full particulars of Sons of Peers and Baronets, and of the Collateral Branches of Peers and Baronets. 3.—Addresses and Clubs of Peers' and Baronets' Sons. 4.—Addresses of Peers' and Baronets' Daughters; of Widows of Peers, Baronets, and Knights; and of Collateral Branches of Peers and Baronets. 5.—Particulars of all Peerages that have become Extinct, Dormant, or Abeyant during the present century. 6.—Complete Indices to the Names of all Sons and Daughters of Peers and of Married Daughters of Baronets. 7.—A perfect Alphabetical Index in body of Work to all Inferior Titles borne by Peers, and to Surnames of Peers. 8.—A Biographical Sketch of immediate Predecessor of each Peer. 9.—Information of living female representatives of Extinct Peerages and Baronetcies.

CONTENTS:

Biographies of Peers [Spiritual and Temporal], Peeresses, Baronets and Knights; of Widows of Peers, Baronets, Knights, and Sons of Peers; of Sons and Daughters of Peers and Baronets; of Privy Councillors; of Protestant Bishops of Ireland and Scotland; of Collateral Branches of Peers and Baronets; of British subjects who have received foreign Titles of Nobility, and of Predecessors of Peers.

Indices to Names of all Sons and Daughters of Peers, and to Married Daughters, Sisters and Aunts of Baronets.

Addresses and Clubs of persons referred to in the Work.

Surnames of Peers (alphabetically arranged in body of Work).

Inferior Titles of Peers " " " "

NOTE.—The extraordinarily large number of changes that have recently been made by Creations, Promotions, Births, Marriages, &c., cause a new edition of "Debrett" to be a necessity in the house of every gentleman and in every public and private office.

"Debrett" is supplied to H.M. the Queen,—to various Members of the Royal Family,—to the Houses of Lords and Commons,—and to other Government Departments.

THE NEW PARLIAMENT.

Debrett's HOUSE OF COMMONS & JUDICIAL BENCH.

CONTAINS 1000 ENGRAVINGS OF ARMS OF M.P.'s., AND PARLIAMENTARY BOROUGHS.

Edited by Robert H. Mair, LL.D.

THE most copious Parliamentary Guide, the only Illustrated one, and the only book adapted for the Library or the Table, all others being pocket editions. Each Member's political bias is given in his own words, which in many cases reflect opinions as they are felt, and not as they appear in dry division lists.

The contents are varied, and comprise,—Biographies of all M.P.'s., Lists of Constituencies returning Members to Parliament, with the names and political bias of the members, the votes polled, the number of Registered Electors, and the following EXCEPTIONAL subjects:—

1. Engravings of the Armorial Bearings of Members of Parliament.—2. Illustrations of the Heraldic Insignia of Corporate Bodies returning Members.—3. Biographical Sketches, and Engravings of the Arms borne by the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature, and of the High Court of Justice.—4. Biographical Sketches of (a) the Judges of the Superior Courts of Ireland and Scotland, (b) the Judges of the County Courts of England, (c) the Recorders of England.—5. The Parliamentary Boundaries of English Boroughs.—6. The Names and Addresses of Returning Officers.—7. A Dictionary of Parliamentary Expressions.—8. Complete Lists of the Names of Lord Chancellors and of Speakers of the House of Commons from the Earliest Era with the dates of their Appointments.—9. An Alphabetical List of Peers.—10. Genealogical Anecdotes and Traditions respecting the origin of certain armorial bearings.—11. Changes that have taken place in the personnel of Parliament since the last general election (This is especially valuable for ready reference). 12. A Calendar of Bye-Elections.

[PLEASE TURN OVER.]

DEBRETT'S PEERAGE, BARONETAGE, KNIGHTAGE, & TITLES OF COURTESY, 1881.

168th EDITION; MUCH IMPROVED, AND AMPLIFIED
WITH INFORMATION ABOUT ALL LIVING COLLATERAL BRANCHES OF PEERS AND BARONETS.

Since this circular was issued
I have decided to add the
"Companionship" section

6, Batoum Gardens, London,
May 21st ~~March~~ 1881.

Sir,

During the last few years I have been requested by many Companions of the Bath, & of other Orders to insert their biographies in a new and separate section of the above mentioned work.

Such an addition to "Debrett" would materially add to my labours and substantially and permanently increase the cost of producing the volume.

Before I comply with the requisition I wish to know whether the Companions of the various orders will offer sufficient inducements in the way of subscriptions.

I apply to you as a member of the class referred to, & that I may be able to mature & carry out my plans, I shall be glad to receive an early reply as to whether or not you will accord your patronage. If you answer affirmatively please sign the following Order-form, & if possible increase the obligation by stating thereon the number of years you will take the book. But if you do not subscribe please send the necessary information to enable me to compile a brief biographical sketch of yourself, the particulars desired being such as are set forth on folio 9 of the Specimen pages sent herewith. A proof would be submitted before publication.

If I meet with sufficient encouragement I propose to make the Companion section uniform with the "Knighthood", but using a somewhat smaller type.

I may mention that at the present time the detailed information I purpose publishing is not included in the scheme of any work extant.

I have the honour to be, Your most obedient servant,

Robert H. Mair, LL.D. (Editor of Debrett)

 These special prices (20 per cent, below published rates) apply only to copies ordered through Dr. MAIR, the Editor.
