Aug 29th 1887.

My dear Dr Dawson

or Clappett

A Mr Clappett an Irish

man, who expresses a desire to take up
teaching as a calling,
came to see me the other day, and informed me that he had a letter or let-ters of introduction by himself. My object in troubling

you with this letter is to ascertain whether this is correct. The person in question is a substantially person,
but I have been so often deceived, that I have become suspicious, and hence should be grateful if you could give me any informa-tion ^{about him} in favour or the reverse. I trust that you are the better for comparative rest, &
Uranian

Very truly
