

Wednesday, 15th Feby 1882.

My dear Sir,

I regret to learn that Major Rogers has not seen his way to offer your son Mr. W. B. Dawson a position you would consider worthy of his acceptance. Major Rogers seemed to be impressed with my representations as to the advantage of having a gentleman of such admirable scientific training upon his staff, but he may have thought Mr. Dawson rather young & inexperienced to have the charge of men.

The particular work in hand is expected to be arduous; and men who have been employed under similar conditions and whose physical endurance has been tested would naturally receive the preference for the few leading positions. There will be other opportunities of entering upon the Company's service should you soon care to avail of them hereafter.

Yours sincerely

W. L. Angus
