

S. G. de Brandon

2nd August, 1882.

Dear Sir,

I was much surprised at receiving the enclosed letter from Dr Hunt today. Before leaving town I had arranged with Mr Stevenson to attend to the duties until my return. It was absolutely necessary that I should have some rest as, partly owing to the work I had done for the Am. Assoc. I was very much overworked and unwell.

I altered all my plans for this summer to avoid neglecting this work and it is extremely annoying, after doing so to have Dr Hunt wrote to me in this manner.

There have been only a few letters forwarded to me here by Mustake & I have invariably sent them at once to Mr Stevenson

I wrote to him yesterday that ery I should leave here tomorrow to relieve him.

I am,

Yours truly
