OF CONNECTICUT.

Hartford, Conn., April 16 1883.

Dear Dr Lawson,

Your letter of the 11th was duly received, & I have delayed answering it till the package of books should arrive.

It will come, doubtless, in a few days, and our young men will promptly avail themselves of the further aid you have kindly planned to afford them.

Warm expressions of gratitude are heard on all sides from those who enjoyed the privilege of hearing your lectures in our Chapel.

Rev. R. R. Morris, pastor of the Methodist-Episcopal Church in this city, must be the individual, about whom your inquiry.

He is above the average
of our colored preachers, & has the respect and
confidence of this community.

I share with you the annoyance of a cold, which is the most stubborn one that I have had for many years. For several years any form of physical discomfort has been an exceptional experience with me.

May your life outrun my own and witness many fresh victories of revealed truth over philosophy falsely so called!

Yours cordially,
Wm Thompson.
