City

Dear Sir-

Believing it possible that you have already prepared a summary of the address expected from you in the mother country next month, as President of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, we venture to hope that you will allow one of our reporters to secure a copy of it, for use the day after delivery. To ensure you against any chance of mistake on our part, we would

Or prefer that if you have prepared any connected address, the copy of it which our representative might be allowed to make, should be left in the hands of Mr. B. Dawson or other gentleman, to be handed to us only after cable news of the delivery of your remarks in the Mother Country. We recognize the fact that under the circumstances, the address you may make will be awaited with the keenest interest in this city and County, and in the natural course of newspaper enterprise would sincerely appreciate an opportunity to give it verbatim at the earliest possible moment. I am

Respectfully
