Dear Sir

Mr. Hodder at my request has asked you to send us the favor of writing on the Cosmogony of Genesis as treated of by Canon Drion, Dr. Pusey's successor at Oxford, in the January number of the Expositor. I omitted to say that I should wish the ~~discussion~~ subject undered - if you can see your way to discuss it - to include the contributions of Mr Gladstone Prof Huxley and Mess as contained in 19th last Dec & Jan. (A second article appears in Feb. of Huxley)

I know the great & pressing claims on yr time, but I venture to urge this request as the subject at present calls forth great interest and we are most anxious to have orthodox views strongly advocated in the Expositor.

The paper on the Cities of the Plain was very much appreciated. I am, Sir,

Yours respectfully

W. R. Nicoll

Editor of the Expositor

Principal Secy J. W. Dawson
