Sir William Dawson.

Dear Sir,

You have my cordial thanks for a copy of your admirable review of the Duoman rhizocarps. The subject interests me very much and I owe you great gratitude for the light you have thrown on it already but I trust that there is more light to come. I have no specially new facts but within the next two months I hope to give a little time to the study of the shales in the field.

Very respectfully,
Edward Orton.
