9th August

Dear Sir William.

Your kind note
of Friday was only received by me this evening - as my mother and myself have been at the Isle of Wight
since last Wednesday.
I should have been pleased to meet Dr Schweinfurth, who kindly

Cent me your little book "Egypt & Syria" to read while I was up the Nile and which I enjoyed while on the famous stream.
Just quite a number of your friends in Baltine, who remembered the ladies and yourself and were pleased to hear of your welfare.
I can scarcely believe that we have no more than met, but London
is a world in itself.

My father, mother and myself will probably leave for Scotland on Sunday next. Meantime
I am engaged tomorrow night. I will hope however to see you ere we go. Trusting that Lady Dawson and the Doctor have quite recovered from their injuries. With kind regards to them and Miss Dawson. I am

yours sincerely

Alex. Robertson
