Sir J. Wm Dawson

My dear Sir

Since writing you today from N.Y. it has occurred to me that possibly it might be more convenient for you if you could leave Boston on the eleven o'clock train. This would bring you to the Grand Central Depot at six o'clock and in ample time to be at my house in time for a seven o'clock dinner.

My special reason for suggesting this is because Dr. Storr expressed a desire to call on you Saturday evening. He receives New Year's calls from two o'clock until six so that his evening is free.

By taking the train at eleven you will have finished your dinner comfortably by eight o'clock and will be able to see Dr Storr if he calls as he intends

Of course I do not wish to interfere with any of your plans and offer this only as a suggestion.

If you make any change in your plans please telegraph me - otherwise I shall meet you at seven o'clock as I mentioned in my letter of today

Yours Very Truly
C Woodbridge

P. S.

I think the eleven o'clock train allows twenty minutes for lunch on the New London ferry boat

Yours Very Truly
