

Hyatt
BOSTON SOCIETY OF NATURAL HISTORY,
BERKELEY STREET,

BOSTON, MASS., Jan. 3 1887

Dear Sir William,

I called on you this morning but was unable to find you in.

I was very sorry that I could not see you immediately.

We have a club composed of scientific men and wealthy gentlemen of Boston, and I should like very much, if it were possible for you to meet them on Thursday evening of this week.

If you can spare us this evening, I will call for you at Hotel Brunswick on Thursday Evening next. between half past seven and eight-o'clock.

I wish if possible you could for keep for us the latter part of the third week of January, in order that we might make arrangements to have you as an honored guest of the Naturalists' Club, another association composed of naturalists, physicians and others.

I should like very much to see you at our Society's rooms,
if you get into town before 4 p.m.
today.

Yours very truly
Alphens Hyatt

by H. B.

Dictated.