

Dear Dawson,

Burdle
Myself

While I am fresh at it, I may say that, having gone specially over your paper on the Kwakwaka'wakw because I saw it made special demands upon typography, I have italicised names of things taken from as technical words of.

"Certain persons known to possess this power are called Inda or Indy."

By the by there will be difficulty about accenting. Are the accents indispensable or can they be left out?

I have not italicised the alternative names of tribes because they begin with Capitals and so are clear, also because the work would be endless.

Please let me hear about the accents before I send to press

The Vocabulary is not in strict alphabetical order, does that matter eg. you have

man

woman

old man

old woman

young man

young woman

or again

but it is mostly like this would you like to have it again to arrange or are you satisfied with it as it stands. Yrs truly
