

Dear Mr. Mace,

Your note has just reached me and although my strength will I shall make a point of being with you at half past two o'clock this afternoon. I am afraid it is beginning to dawn upon me how little use it is endeavouring to do any special service to a community who can find nothing but cause for objection and fault finding in every thing concerned in this subject and I shall be very much inclined to take the same view of the matter, as that you are aware Mr George St John has had forced upon him.

Sincerely yours
Darius Goodrich

Montreal Saturday 5th May 12 Noon

Handwritten text, likely a letter or document, written in cursive. The text is oriented vertically on the page. The words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and the angle of the page. Some legible fragments include "I shall be", "to the", "of the", "matter", "the", "whose".

Handwritten signature or name, written in cursive. The text is oriented vertically on the page. The words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and the angle of the page. Some legible fragments include "James", "of".

Handwritten text, likely a date or location, written in cursive. The text is oriented vertically on the page. The words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and the angle of the page. Some legible fragments include "12 noon", "March 1st".