Dear Sir William

I hear from my sister that you have again sent me one of your books, from the little I judge it will be very interesting but this French sister will not send it, she
she has just read it!!
so it must be a pleasure deferred, &

in the mean while, I thank you so warmly
for the kind remembrance.
I thought you must have quite forgotten me, as before you came to England last,
you wrote that Lady W. & your daughter had sailed & wd
let me have their address, & I understood

You would all pay law
a visit - this however was the last Communion I had, & I was expecting you all the summer!
I trust your affairs
are well. With Christian remembrance

I am
Y^r. Very sincerely
Wm. Lyman
