My dear Sir William,

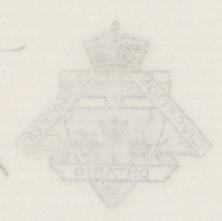

A generous friend of our University proposes to place at the disposal of the Faculty a certain sum of money for the maintenance of impetunious students. He proposes calling it a "Lending Fund" & asks to me to acquire the practice at other Universities where such funds have been established. You have so many interesting attachments to McGill that I thought perhaps you might have this also. If so kindly let me know your practice, or if you have none yourself & know of any University that has
