21. 1. 89,

Dear Sir

I have just finished for the second time reading your most most interesting work "The Origin of the word according to Revelation and Science". and though I was never an Evolutionist I cannot but think your arguments are quite unassailable on this subject. Now take the liberty of asking if you ever fell in with Fairholme's Geology of Scripture which read many years ago. He entered into calculations showing as I then thought, conclusively, that the Prosaic Account has correct inasmuch as the denudation of land between Dover & Calais could only have been 5100 years old. The second point was the figure of a Lion found many feet below the Lias Stone quarry opened & thick in the upper part of Harcorer. There no doubt but that you have seen the book & so shall be much obliged by your procuring me into your office. Apologizing for this trespass-passing on your valuable time I am Dear Sir

With much respect

Yours faithfully

W. G. Fuller
